

Invitation Ensemble

-  The Invitation: This main piece of the ensemble provides important information about your celebration and sets the stage for your event.
-  Enclosures: These small cards included with your invitation that provide more detailed instructions about your celebration. They include reception cards, respond cards, and maps cards.
-  Announcement Card: This card is sent to friends and family members who could not attend your wedding. It includes the date and location of your ceremony and is sent immediately following the wedding.
-  Pew Card: Cards given to honored guests for reserved seating at the ceremony.
-  Save the Date: These cards are mailed before the invitation to allow your guests plenty of time to prepare for the wedding.

Money-Saving Tips

- ✿ Get the look of two colors while only paying for one by selecting an invitation with color embedded in the design. Choose a text color to complement.
- ✿ Order extra invitations for people you may have overlooked. It is less expensive to add 25 more invitations to your original order than it is to place a new order at a later date.
- ✿ Substitute a respond postcard in place of a traditional respond card and envelope. Postcards require less postage.
- ✿ Instead of reception cards, request that your reception information be added to your invitations as corner copy.
